The Imperial Economic Conference

The outstanding event listed on the Canadian national calendar for 1932 is the Imperial Economic Conference which will open at Ottawa on July 18. The deliberations of this conference, the decisions it may reach or fail to reach, may even the spirit manifested within the conference, will have far-reaching effects not only upon Canada and the British nations of the world, but upon all nations.

Because this is true, the people of Canada will follow the proceedings of the conference with an interest surpassing in its intensity that usually displayed by them in the sessions of their own parliament. It is, in a sense, a parliament of the Empire that will be in session, and while its conclusions will have to be confirmed and ratified later by each individual parliament in Great Britain and the Dominions, it is safe to say that once the conference itself has reached unanimity, its decisions will be accepted by all.

On the other hand, should the conference fail in its avowed object, should it prove as abortive of results as the London conference of 1930, the outcome may possibly be very disastrous; in fact, in such an event, it would have been better if there had been no conference. British people everywhere entertained high hopes of the conference of 1930 in advance of its sittings, and their disappointment over its almost complete failure was correspondingly great, their only consolation being the decision reached to meet again and make another try for success.

All political parties in Canada are sincerely desirous that the Ottawa conference should succeed where the London conference failed. No one believes the same can be said of all political parties in Great Britain and the other Dominions. If this united will to succeed is persisted in, if it becomes intensified as the opening date of the conference approaches, if the determination of the masses of the people that the conference shall succeed is manifested everywhere, then success will be achieved.

That such a feeling and desire now animates the people of Western Canada is indicated by the proposal made in the Saskatchewan Legislature that all parties in that Assembly should unite in framing and unanimously adopting a resolution setting forth the views of their people as to the policies which Canada should present to the conference, thus, so far as Saskatchewan is concerned, eliminating all partisan contentions. The suggestion goes even farther, namely, that all the other Western Provincial Legislatures should follow the same course. In a word, the suggestion is that so far as the Western Provinces of Canada are concerned they should, in advance of the conference, reach common ground in regard to matters of policy in the sphere of Empire trade, as the interests of the West may be affected thereby, and acquaint the Ottawa Government of its conclusions.

Great Britain is to be represented in the conference by a new National Government representative of Conservatives, Liberals, and a section of Labour; Australia will be represented by a new Government representative of a combination of political groups. It is well, therefore, that the national viewpoint of Canada, as represented by political groups, should thus be ascertained and presented to the Canadian Government.

Admittedly the difficulties to be overcome, the problems to be solved, are many and great. The national interests of each component part of the Empire have to be recognized, while the combined interests of all are being worked out. There must, therefore, be a willingness to give and take, to compromise, to reach common grounds of understanding, rather than to adopt inflexible attitudes. Fortunately for the ultimate success of the conference this fact appears to be more generally recognized and accepted than heretofore.

It is fortunate, too, that in manufacturing circles in Eastern Canada there is everywhere in evidence a willingness to go some way at least in the direction of more encouragement for the sale of British-made goods in Canada in return for preferences in the Old Country markets for those products which constitute the great bulk of Canada's export trade. Taken all in all the outlook appears to be favorable to a successful outcome of the conference's deliberations.

It is also well that the move for unanimity in the matter of Canadian policy in the conference should originate in these Western Provinces. No part of Canada stands to gain more, or to lose more, than does the West. For example, it is universally recognized that the success of the Hudson Bay route depends upon the development of a large import trade from Britain through the port of Churchill. An absence of such import trade means that the export of grain and other Western products will be strictly limited because a one-way rail and steamship traffic can never succeed. It is economically impossible, too expensive, because without two-way traffic vessels put on the route, rates on both railway and such ships as do operate will, of necessity, be too high to insure success.

This is but one aspect of the subject, small, perhaps, in relation to the whole subject of Empire trade, but very vital nevertheless to Western Canada. It is because of just such aspects, however, that a unity of Canadian opinion is so essential before the conference begins its work. It is to be hoped that such unity will be established and find expression around the conference table.

France Will Ensure Every Citizen Against Gas Attacks

Fifty million gas masks have been ordered by the French Government for civilian use, it was learned officially. The masks, to be manufactured during the next two years, will be fitted against the deadliest gases developed since the World War. They will insure immunity for ten hours after which the chemical canisters can be changed.

The masks were ordered by the Ministry of the Interior for the protection of the civil population in case of a gas attack. It is intended by the French Government to have enough gas masks on hand to guarantee every citizen protection.

To Protect Forests

New Machine For Constructing Fire Lines Is Invented

A new machine has been invented to aid in fighting forest fires. It is a machine that can be used with a wide plough fixed in front. The plough is used for constructing fire lines to prevent the spread of forest fires. It can make a furrow fifteen inches wide and will throw out the dirt side by side on either side, making a fire line almost four feet wide. It will accomplish in one hour, work that would keep ten men busy for a whole day.

How Railway Fights Weeds

English Company Finds Spraying Poison From Trucks Effective

Weeds are the railwayman's enemy as well as the gardener's. If left alone they would choke the permanent way as effectively as in the circumstances they would do our flower-beds and gravel paths. The British Southern Railway has made an effective weed-killing train by coupling two old tenders together and fitting them with spray pipes and tanks. A special form of liquid weed-killer is used, and the spray pipes have an effective range of about ten feet.

Cost Of Stamp Commission

The cost of the Stamp Commission which investigated trading in grain futures is the subject of questions asked on the order paper of the House of Commons by A. L. Beaudin (Lib. Provencher). Mr. Beaudin asks the total cost of the commission, amounts paid the three commissioners for both fees and expenses, and amounts expended in fees for lawyers engaged by the Government.

Clean Seed For Farmers

Hon. Mr. Buckle Announces Plan For Cleaning Wheat In Relief Area
The Honourable W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture, announces plans for the cleaning of wheat supplied to farmers in the relief area of Saskatchewan.

The stocks in local elevators will be distributed insofar as they are satisfactory and farmers will take the wheat home and clean it or they may arrange with custom cleaning outfits to clean it. Some of these may be operated by private individuals and some by municipal councils. An initiative to be taken by the local elevator or milling company.

The cost of cleaning the wheat is included in the price and those cleaning it themselves can claim a rebate from the Saskatchewan Relief Commission of 2½ cents per bushel. When a farmer is unable to clean himself he will make his own arrangements for getting it cleaned and the Relief Commission will pay to the cleaner a rate not exceeding 2½ cents per bushel for the quantity of wheat cleaned. The charge will be based on the quantity of uncleaned wheat (excluding commercial dockage), put through the cleaner.

The operator of the cleaning machine will be required to submit to the Relief Commission satisfactory evidence of cleaning. Proper forms for this purpose can be obtained from the local relief officer.

The Relief Commission will only accept responsibility for cleaning charges on wheat supplied by the Relief Commission.

Any cleaning for which the Relief Commission pays must be satisfactory to the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, whose representative will make periodical inspections of cleaning operations as soon as the wheat is released for delivery to farmers.

Keep Trade In Canada

Carrying of Canadian wheat by Canadian traffic facilities and through Canadian ports rather than through United States channels, would save to a large extent the transportation problems of the Dominion, and would provide millions of dollars for Canadian labor, said Col. Rings On Douglas Spruce Indicate That Ancient Tree Has Lived For 3,200 Years

Man's intelligence has discovered that various objects, animate and inanimate, reveal in their own bodies records of the ages, but that his own body is not similarly endowed, and when discovered presents evidence of the most disputable nature. Not so with trees. A tree is a self-revelation as is told in an address appropriately delivered by Professor F. E. Lloyd before a section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association at Montreal. The tree speaks in the language of today, and to those conversant with the tongue, discloses its age. The rings on a Douglas spruce on this continent, for instance, prove that it has lived 3,200 years, and probably nothing else that is living and is not vegetable so similarly indisputably survives for thousands of years.

Prof. Lloyd reverts to what has happened in the world since the seedling of that ancient spruce germinated. He sees Abraham leaving Uruk of the Chaldees to start his pilgrims. He sees the Christian religion being founded. The storms that have buffeted that tree in vain have blown on a host of wars, migrations and upheavals. The leaves on it have come and gone, and come again endlessly, but dynasties that believed themselves implanted eventually have been cast down into the dust.

Man, the family of man, has been unable in his body to disclose the story of his endurance. His age has always been problematical, and none agrees who was first, or how old were the oldest. Man might, like a horse, have his age told by his teeth, but what he now has more often indicates a stage in the dental arc. His periodicity has been set by the howness of his brow, but how-brows are claimed by high-brows to be as indicative of man in the present as they were of him in pre-glacial eras.

No such uncertainty beclouds the age of the venerable Douglas spruce. Its birth certificate is in its trunk. Its rings make a weather chart of the centuries. The narrow rings tell the seasons which were short and cool, the wide rings record the years of warmth and sunshine. That old tree tells the story of the weather for three thousand years.

Man's body does not reveal even the weather of the ages, and tells less than do the trees whose pulpy substance is disposed for its immortality and woodiness of intellect. Man's age can only be inferred from the buried bones and trinkets he leaves strewn in his primitive habitat. The early history of the inhabitants of British Columbia has been told by Professor Hill Tout through what he has dug out of their middens at Vancouver. But as remotely of the past as are the utensils picked up from where the cave-men threw them, they are but of yesterday in the lives of the magnificent old Douglas spruce. Winnipeg Free Press.

Canadian Wheat Flour

May Launch Campaign To Demonstrate Value For Bread Making

A campaign to demonstrate to the people of Europe the value of Canadian wheat flour for bread making is under consideration of the department of Trade and Commerce, H. H. Stevens, Minister of that department, told the supply committee of the House of Commons.

The details of the scheme are being worked out and the announcement was perhaps premature as definite plans were lacking. He had been greatly encouraged by similar campaigns carried out in the past and he was of the opinion that advertising might play a leading part in a return to prosperity.

Mr. Stevens referred to the recent campaign to further the interests of Canadian grape growers. The government had contributed financially, and there had been remarkably successful results. A campaign to popularize the Canadian apple abroad and to stimulate interest in Europe in Canadian sea foods and in Canadian cattle, had met with marked success.

More than 12,000 rolls receiving sets of three or more tubes each were manufactured in Austria last year, more than five times as many as were made four years ago.

Many Instruments Of War

Submarine Not Only Menace To Human Lives

On the eve of the World Disarmament Conference, the submarine again has made tragic appeal for some cessation in the arming of nations against nations. The sinking of the M-2 in the English Channel raises the total of men lost in routine operation of submarines during the last ten years to 613.

Of course, this is only a part of the price paid in human lives for the privilege of preparing for war. The submarine is only one instrument of warfare. In the United States alone fatalities with military airplanes have reached half that figure during the same period. The total for planes in all nations must exceed it. Experiments with poison gases and other weapons have added their quota.

But the prolonged tragedy of submarine disasters has evolved a special outcry against undersea craft. It is also said that they are a stealthy weapon. But is an airplane dropping bombs or gases at night upon a civilian population any less furtive? It is argued, too, that submarines have no peaceful usefulness. Have ten-inch guns any greater utility?

This is no defense of the submarine. But just at this time when the nations are thinking about putting away some of their weapons it may be well to recognize that other instruments of human slaughter may be no less hateful in war and useless in peace. Christian Science Monitor.

Farmers Will Benefit

Trading In Hogs On The Basis Of Official Grades

The new hog grading regulations put into effect by promulgation in the "Canada Gazette" of January 30 extend the provisions for trading in hogs on the basis of official grades in such a way as entirely to eliminate flat-price trading. Hogs sold from farmer or other producer right down the line to the final packer or processor must be traded in on the basis of official grades. This ensures to the farmer full benefits of the agreement whereby a premium of one dollar is paid for all hogs grading "Select Bacon." The regulations also provide for that premium for quality, which is rightly his, passing back in larger measure to the original producer. Complete information as to grades and the procedure to be followed can be secured on application to the Department at Ottawa.

Macdonald College Celebrates

General view of Macdonald College buildings, St. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

Sir William C. Macdonald.

(1) Macdonald Engineering Building, McGill University.

(2) Chemistry Building, McGill University.

(3) Physics Building, McGill University.

(4) Macdonald Hall, McGill University.

The Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Macdonald College with particular emphasis on Founder's Day, February 19th, focuses attention on this institution and its founder, the late Sir William C. Macdonald who built, equipped and endowed the entire institution at an expense of more than six million dollars.

Founder's Day which this year marks the 101st Anniversary of the birth of the late Sir William C. Macdonald, founder of the Macdonald Tobacco Company and more draws attention to the tremendous scope of his benefactions to McGill University which the Macdonald College at St. Anne de Bellevue is affiliated. These benefactions total more than twelve and one half million dollars, $10,000,000 of which was given during life. While the Faculty of Science and of Scientific Agriculture was possibly the dearest to Sir William's heart, every faculty of the McGill University benefited during his life and after. The Faculty of Law received $232,500. The Conservatorium of Music $100,000. The Faculty of Medicine was bequeathed $400,000. The McCord Museum Building was purchased at a cost of $142,000, while the Macdonald Park site now occupied by the Stadium, and the Student's Park was purchased at a cost of more than one million dollars and presented to the University. Student's activities came under the beneficent scope of Sir William as the McGill Union testifies. Sir William spent $219,000 on its erection and equipment. In addition to the wonderful equipment by St. Anne de Bellevue, those buildings at McGill which bear the Macdonald name are those donated by the late Tobacco knight, and today, as the greatest monument to his memory.

Macdonald College was founded by the late Sir William in 1906. It was designed to include three schools—one for agriculture, one for household science and one for normal teacher training. The gift included the grounds, almost 600 acres in extent, the complete equipment and endowment. The college itself was incorporated with the University of McGill as the Faculty of Agriculture, although the teachers' training feature is possibly his best known contribution to life in the Province of Quebec.

Other sections of the country have benefited by the late Sir William's benefactions, the Macdonald Institute and the Macdonald Hall at McGill Agricultural College, Guelph, being among the most important.

Turning back the pages of Canadian political history to the days of Macdonald, Tilley, Tupper and Blake, R. S. White, veteran Conservative member of the House of Commons, recently spoke before the Canadian Club of Ottawa. Mr. White, who sat in the parliamentary press gallery a half century ago and looked down from that vantage point on the political giants of the period, gave it as his considered opinion that the average ability of the House of Commons today is as high as it has ever been.

Fifty years from now, he said, people will be talking of the political giants of today, just as we now do of those who trod the political stage in 1882.

Mr. White, who knew politics and statesmen not only as a journalist, but also as a member of the House of Commons, told the Canadian Club that he was "degraded" from the press gallery to a seat on the floor of the House in the year 1888. He represented the Ontario constituency of Cardwell.

At present he represents Mount Royal. Mr. White delighted his listeners with many anecdotes of political figures who have passed into history. Just in passing, he expressed the view that "one of the vices of our House of Commons" is the long speech.

People might agree or disagree with the policies of Sir John A. Macdonald, but all must admire his talents. Just in passing, he expressed the view that "one of the vices of our House of Commons" is the long speech.

It had been his pleasure and privilege to know Sir Wilfrid Laurier well. "A charming man and a great orator," he called the Liberal leader. He spoke of Sir Charles Tupper who had "actually barked at the mouth" in the course of one of his fiery exhortations to the House of Commons. He referred to Sir Leonard Tilley, Hon. A. MacKenzie, Sir John Thompson, Hon. William Patterson, Sir Richard Cartwright and others who stand out from the pages of political history. He quoted Hon. William Patterson as saying once, when dealing with the question of patronage, that "all other things being equal, a Liberal should have the job."

And, added Mr. White to the amusement of his audience, "all other things were equal, and the Liberal got the job."

Speaking of Hon. Edward Blake, Mr. White said that in power and in respect to pure intellect no able man ever sat in the House of Commons. Sir Richard Cartwright, he said, was frequently very sharp and bitter in parliament. "I almost think he disliked Conservatives," said Mr. White, "and that he regarded them as a different breed of dog altogether."

R.C.M.P. Take Over Duties In Province

Bright and early Friday morning, the electric sign which has marked the headquarters of the provincial police for many years, was removed. In its place a sign was erected proclaiming the building to be the headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

This was the only visual evidence Friday of an historic occasion. At midnight Thursday the provincial police force passed out of existence and in its place was ushered in a new area in police administration of Alberta.

The familiar red coats of the "Mounties" were, however, conspicuous by their absence at Calgary headquarters. The new "Mounties," freshly sworn to observe the Royal Canadian Mounted Police oath and to maintain the famous mounted police order "to get their man," were dressed in ordinary "civies."

It was explained at the Calgary headquarters that the mounted police uniforms had not yet arrived at the co-stables in the Calgary district would have to carry on for a time in civilian clothes.

Require Seed Oats For Relief Area of Alberta

Seed oats will be required in the relief areas of Alberta this year, according to a circular letter sent out to selected farmers in the province recently by E. L. Gray, field crops commissioner.

The letter points out that tentative arrangements have been made with United Grain Growers Ltd. and the Alberta Wheat Pool to act as the distributing agents for this seed.

Only supplies of oats cleaned to No. 1 or No. 2 seed grade will be purchased, and they will be loaded on cars over platform and be covered by a seed inspection certificate before being accepted for shipment.

A premium of nine cents per bushel over the Fort William spot price for No. 2 C.W. on the date of billing the car, less Fort William freight, will be paid.

The letter points out that there is only a limited quantity required. None of these oats will be accepted from the Peace River country.

Garnet Wheat Grading Will Be Unchanged

The consideration by the committee of the Garnet wheat question was given at the behest of the prime minister. Mr. Bennett threw out the suggestion in the house recently that in order to allay the fears of these farmers who contemplated sowing Garnet this year, the committee might meet and make its recommendation.

The committee will begin to hear representations from experts in connection with the researches made into the properties of Garnet, and the investigation will continue for some weeks.

The effect of the committee's recommendation, however, is that notwithstanding what may eventually issue from that investigation, the status of garnet will not be interfered with for one year at least.

Mr. Stevens in the course of his remarks recalled that last year the Western Grain Standards Board had adopted a resolution establishing separate grades for Garnet. To give effect to that resolution, governmental sanction was necessary, and pending the decision of the committee, so much action had been taken.

Fifty percent of the wheat grown north of Biggar and Red Deer was Garnet, Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture told the committee.

Secures Patent On New Shirt

Mr. J. Duffy has recently secured a patent on a new creation in shirts. This, he considers, will make a radical change in the type of shirt at present in common use.

The old anchor, caused by the long tail has been removed from the new shirt, which is cut in such a way that it gives to every motion of the body without causing the least strain on any part of the garment. It will remain in place and give the wearer every comfort and convenience. All unnecessary goods have been removed from around the seat, thereby doing away with the unnecessary inconvenience of the present shirt.

Mr. Duffy is also taking out patent rights in the United States and expects to place his commodity on the market within the next two months.

Principals in Heroic Sea Rescue

On the afternoon of Saturday, March 12, there was enacted off Halifax a true drama of the sea, replete with all the best traditions of "those who go down to the sea in ships." The salvage ship Reindeer, herself on the way to aid a vessel in distress, became a wreck and sent out an S.O.S. which was picked up by the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm, bound from Liverpool to Halifax. Captain A. Retzlaff, her commander, at once altered course and raced to the sinking Reindeer. When within two miles, volunteers were called for and a lifeboat, under command of Second Officer H. B. Knight, hurriedly was made and high seas for nearly four hours to reach the stricken ship. Captain Retzlaff handled the Montcalm so as to make a lee for the rescue and kept all engines in their track. Captain Featherstone and his crew of 22, to say nothing of a police dog, were safely taken off and the return trip to the Montcalm made in about 15 minutes, thanks to the wind. The shipwreck victims were given a rousing welcome and their rescuers cheered to the echo by the Montcalm's passengers, who witnessed the entire event. Later, a piano was taken up for the volunteers and a silver cigarette case presented to Second Officer Knight. A telegram was also sent to E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, commending the rescue work. The upper picture shows the crew of the Reindeer, with Captain Retzlaff and Second Officer Knight, in uniform. Lower picture shows the brave men who manned the Montcalm's lifeboat. In between J. Carr, H. Addicott, L. Page, H. Pearce; the foreman and Second Officer Knight and Captain J. Lavery and W. Hughes, boatswain W. Doyle and Retzlaff. Left to right from top are Able-Bodied J. Close Judicial Districts

Four judicial districts of Saskatchewan will not operate this year, as no appropriations have been provided for them by the government for the fiscal year 1932-33. Saskatchewan Leads In Mental Hygiene

National Committee Expresses Hope That All Large Hospitals Will Follow Lead Given By Hon. Dr. Munroe

The report of the activities of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene for the period 1929-31, just issued, makes special complimentary reference to the work being done by Saskatchewan's Minister of Public Health, the Hon. F. D. Munroe, in connection with the establishment of a division of Mental Health in Saskatchewan.

"The progressive Minister of Health," says the report, "is taking a statesmanlike interest in mental hygiene and has created a division of mental health. It will fall to this division to work out policies and programmes in regard to mental institutions, clinics and the application of mental hygiene principles in education, social work, administration of criminal justice, etc. The Minister of Health has also made possible the organization of psychiatric wards in connection with the Regina General Hospital. It is to be hoped that all large general hospitals throughout the country will follow the lead furnished by Regina."

During the period 1929-31 the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene has been active in all parts of Canada in the promotion of mental hygiene progress. The outstanding pieces of work include a survey of the Province of Prince Edward Island; organization of a post-graduate course in psychiatry in Toronto; integration of mental hygiene into the school system of Montreal; activities leading to the enlargement of the mental hospital at Brandon, Manitoba; arrangement in collaboration with the Federal Census Bureau to secure uniform statistics from mental institutions of the country; publication of weekly articles in two hundred newspapers; demonstration of the value of social work in the parole of mental patients in British Columbia; establishment of a Division of Mental Health in connection with the Department of Public Health of the Province of Saskatchewan; organization of psychiatric wards in connection with the Regina General Hospital; educational publicity; continuation of important research activities at four leading Canadian universities and the knitting of mental hygiene activities through co-operative efforts between the National Committee of Canada and the United States.

C. N. R. Branch Lines

$68,000 To Be Expended On Construction Work This Year

A total of $68,000 will be expended on branch line construction for the Canadian National Railways this year, that is, according to authorized in the 1929-1932 programme, authorized in a return tabled by R. J. Monaghan, Minister of Railways, in the House of Commons. A number of the branch lines are completed, but work this year will be confined to five, of which two are in Alberta one in Saskatchewan, one each in British Columbia and Ontario. The programme follows: Dubuick (Alberta) easterly, $15,000; Brantford (Ontario) cut-off, $32,000; Denbush-Sheep (Alberta), $15,000; St. Walburg (Saskatchewan) Bonnyville, $25,000; Lulu Island (B.C.) $17,000.

Expenditures in connection with the programme up to December 31, 1931, amounted to $17,610,769. During the year the sum of $1,978,000 was spent. The amount authorized in the schedule plus the extraordinary 15 per cent, totalled $23,961,250.

A number of the constructions have been discontinued for the time being.

Store Gas For Planes

Tractor To Be Used To Establish Caches For Aeroplanes Operating In North

A caterpillar tractor swing to establish caches of gasoline for use of aeroplanes flying into the Great Bear Lake country will leave Prince Albert in a few days to make its way over frozen muskegs, rivers and lakes of the west's hinterland to Fort Rae, 400 miles from the new mineral field. The "swing's" route will be via Ft. in Crose, La Loche and McMurtry, Alberta, and from there up the Mackenzie River, a total distance of 1,200 miles.

This transportation venture of the Brooks Airways Limited, which plans to operate a line of planes from Prince Albert to Great Bear Lake commencing shortly, has never before been attempted. The outfit will travel light to McMurtry, end of steel, where the gasoline will be picked up. In the event the destination in the northwest territories is not reached to give sufficient time for the tractor and sleighs to be brought back, they will be left at Fort Rae until next winter.

Following the "swing's" departure, Mr. Brooks will fly to McMurtry, checking the ground party's progress from the air. His business at McMurtry will include the testing of the Mackenzie River ice to ascertain what care will be necessary to ensure safe passage for the tractor. The "plane trip" will be made via Fort Chipewyan and Stony Lake, the latter point the destination of a recent flight to inquire into the death of the late Corporal E. B. Burnstall, whose remains were flown to Prince Albert.

Brooks company officials here expect that the first of the season's flying into Great Bear will be in April and March when planes will take in supplies with which to start the summer's work.

Need More Population

Not Sufficient People In Canada To Shoulder National Debt

Canada must have more population, W. A. Gordon, Acting Minister of Immigration, told the House of Commons. "Whether we like it or not, we must get on the positive side of immigration," he said, "if we hope to pay off the huge debt now saddling the 10,000,000 people of this country."

The Dominion's "back to the land movement" has placed 44,000 people on farms, the House was told by Mr. Gordon. They had been "taken off the unemployment shelves," removed from the cities and made independent. "That," he added, "is no mean accomplishment."

Gasoline Tax

Net Revenue Shown For Saskatchewan For Year 1931

The Saskatchewan gasoline tax resulted in a net revenue of $123,456,658.20 being received into the provincial treasury in 1931, figures made public in the legislature disclosed. The total amount collected through the tax was $24,084,675.20, of which $1,148,528.50 was retained in addition to $26,088.50 paid out by way of commissions for collections.

In addition, it was stated by Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways, that 91,276 automobile licenses were issued in 1931, 15,678 licenses for trucks, 41 for public vehicles, 110 for freight vehicles, 306 for motorcycles, 570 for heavy vehicles, 2 for pedal bicycles with motor attachments and 1,107 for trailers.

A Good Investment

Big Business In Orient Developed From Few Gifts

About a quarter of a century ago the Standard Oil Co. gave away without cost a huge number of kerosene oil lamps and stoves in China and throughout the Orient. This was designed to increase the demand for kerosene oil. It was a good investment. Today kerosene lamps and stoves are common in all parts of the Orient, and the interior cities and towns as well as the rural districts still employ kerosene oil as their principal means of lighting.

Government and Municipal Co-Operation

Necessity of Economy In Order To Safeguard Solvency Of Municipalities

Hon. Howard McConnell, Provincial Minister of Municipal Affairs for Saskatchewan, has addressed a letter over his personal signature to the various municipalities pointing out the necessity of close co-operation between Saskatchewan Government and the municipalities. He points out the paramount importance of safeguarding the solvency of the municipalities by pursuing a course of the most rigid economy. He pays a tribute to the public spirit of certain municipalities, pointing out that there have been instances where tax collections in districts where crops have not been good, have exceeded tax collections in districts where crops have been reasonably good. In some districts which have been dried out the financial statements submitted have given the greatest encouragement. Respect is expressed that in some municipalities more, favored in the way of better crops financial conditions are not what they should be.

The Minister expresses the desirability of the employment of capable secretaries and paying them reasonable salaries for the important services rendered. He urges the utmost economy in preparing the budget for the coming year, and suggests that only the most necessary expenditures be undertaken. He asks for a copy of the forthcoming budget with an indication of the proposed savings, and offers the earnest co-operation of the Government, the Minister, and the Department.

Tuberculosis Affects Indians

Resistance Less Vigorous Among Those Residing In Remote Reserves

Resistance to tuberculosis is less vigorous among the Indian population of the north, according to a report of the superintendent of Indian Affairs indicates. Near white settlements the ravages of this disease can be controlled; and Indians engaged in agricultural pursuits show increasing resistance. The Department of Indian Affairs declares in regard to the latter that "it would not be impossible to practically stamp out tuberculosis on several reserves, and the measures required to this end would not be unduly costly."

Of the Indians in the less accessible reserves, however, the report says that they are not showing "any satisfactory tendency towards increased resistance to tuberculosis, and their location and manner of life makes it difficult, if not impossible, for the department to give them effective aid in this respect."

Still Some Differences

There are still some differences between the sexes, despite the desperate efforts to eradicate them all, and never saw a man earnestly endeavoring to ascertain by a prolonged study of the outside of the envelope whom the letter came from, instead of opening it and finding out at once and for sure.

Farm Implements Exported

Canadian farm implements exported during January were valued at $120,254, an increase of $1,300 over December, 1931, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported recently. The best purchaser was the United States at $43,486. Great Britain's purchases totalled $16,800.

Mrs. J. Sheils and Aletta, Harold and Leslie, of Didsbury, and Miss Beatrice Sheils, of Stuart school, spent the Easter holidays at their home here.

Mrs. Noah Eckel received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. Robt. Richardson, which took place at her home in Walkerton, Ontario on Wednesday morning last, from pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Besides her daughter here, she leaves one son, John C. Richardson, of Walkerton, and three grandchildren. Her husband died a year ago. Having visited with her daughter here on several occasions, she will be remembered by many in the district.

"N.S.F." Cheques.

A Criminal Offence Now to Issue Cheques Without Sufficient Funds.

A third reading was given in the House of Commons to a measure amending the criminal code.

One amendment changes the "false pretence" clause and provides that where a cheque given for goods is returned by the bank dishonored, the presumption will be that the issuer was guilty of false pretence, unless he can show he has reason to believe there were sufficient funds in the bank.

To those who make a practice of issuing cheques when short of funds this should be a warning and a tendency to decrease the number of N.S.F. cheques on the market.
